THE ELITE

Architects and designers are only too familiar with the garish red fire extinguishers which often take the edge off executive environments, yet they seem to be something that they can do nothing about due to being an essential fire safety requirement.

However, our Elite Collection range includes fire extinguishers, stands and fire safety signage. The products reflect and compliment high-class environments, at the same time as providing the necessary fire safety requirements.

Locations where these products are installed, include luxurious restaurants and hotels, exclusive office blocks and show homes, and classy retail outlets. Available in 3 finishes, Chrome, Gold and Antique Copper, the Elite Collection Range enables fire safety to fit in with a contemporary edge.
