

Carrington Defence Fabrics

Carrington is one of Europe's largest fully integrated textile processing and finishing operations, producing fabrics suitable for end-user applications across all industry sectors. Based in Lancashire, where the roots of British textiles began, the company is the largest producer of workwear fabrics in the UK. And is now Europe's leading supplier of flame retardant finished fabrics exporting to 70 countries worldwide.

We specialise in the development of fabrics and finishes that can provide exceptional levels of performance in the most demanding workplace environments. Working closely with Europe's leading garment manufacturers and rental laundries puts us in a unique position to monitor trends and demand.

Operational and environmental excellence is the driving force of our business and is supported by a continuous programme of investment in modern, environmentally sound production technologies of our manufacturing company Pincroft Dyeing & Printing Co. Ltd

Investment in technology and production goes hand in hand with ecology and sustainability. We have dramatically reduced the environmental impact of our fabric preparation, dyeing and printing and finishing processes. Operating one of the largest heat recovery systems of its type in the world, we utilise advanced effluent treatment technology to recycle chemical residues and minimise water consumption.

We have a long established international reputation for innovation and continue to introduce exciting new breakthroughs in workwear and technical fabrics. Our workwear range meets the stringent performance requirements encountered in such diverse areas as heavy industry, light engineering, food processing, retail, distribution, pharmaceutical, healthcare and defence. Our quality assurance systems cover every stage of fabric production and our methods and processes are certified to internationally recognised standards such as ISO and ETSA.

This is backed up by total customer support through our Sales office in England, France and Germany – plus, agents and distributors across the globe.

SHAPING THE FUTURE OF FABRIC

For the past seventy five years we have been supplying a wide choice of standard and specialised fabric options to national military forces and major defence companies around the world.

Carrington's continuous experience in this field is one of our greatest strengths. This success has been achieved working closely with our sister company, Pincroft Dyeing and Printing, benefitting from their state of the art facilities and advanced technologies in dyeing and printing.

Combining this with Carrington's unrivalled excellence in global sales and customer service means that our new Defence Range brings together long standing knowledge and expertise to give an even stronger Carrington total product range.

Currently we have over 200 different camouflage patterns in our range that can be produced in a variety of different shades and fabrics.

Or if you are looking for a completely new camouflage design, be it a multi-terrain print or standard dyed fabric, we can provide you with a comprehensive design service.

This has been structured to support our customers at every stage of the development process, from initial concept to bulk delivery - including full scale samples of the chosen design before going into production.

From cotton field to battlefield Carrington are there to support you.

Standing Strong

To support troops in theatre we can add flame retardant treatment on stronger cotton and polycotton ripstops. This offers a more economical solution that will deliver the level of comfort and durability required in military uniforms, before, during and after combat.

Carrington's inherent flame retardant line 'Flameban' will be the base for future R&D developments with military focus as there is a need for a stronger, lighter and more comfortable fabric; even after an increased time and exposure to moisture and heat.

Adding coatings and laminates on flame retardant products, and also using High Tenacity polyamides and polyester base fabrics, will create new generation military product lines that will also give protection against rain and storm.

Carrington can supply the following fabrics:

- Cotton/polyester blends
- 100% cotton
- Flame retardant
- Corespun
- Ripstop
- Stretch
- Linings
- Shirtings
- Waterproof
- Protective fabrics
- Over 150 designs in stock
