Course description

Working Safely is an accredited course for employees from any sector with no specific supervisory or managerial responsibility. It provides a grounding in the essentials of health and safety – everyone at work should have an understanding of why they must 'work safely' and this course offers exactly that.

Working Safely introduces a completely new approach to health and safety training, and offers the full scope of a high-impact and interactive session.

Who should attend this course?

People at any level, in any sector, who require a grounding in the essentials of health and safety in the workplace.

Course content

- Introduction to working safely
- Assessing risk
- Understanding your responsibilities
- Improving safety performance
- Defining and identifying risks and hazards

Assessment

Delegates will be evaluated using a multi-format question paper and a multiple-choice hazard spotting exercise.

Certificate

An IOSH certificate will be issued to the delegates upon successful completion of the institution's approved assessment procedures.

Prerequisites

This course is designed for those with some managerial responsibilities and experience – however, there are no formal entry criteria.

Duration

This is a one-day, instructor-led course.
